OVERVIEW

Privately owned food processing business in the UK, Kent, delivers fruit and vegetables to UK supermarkets from other countries, providing low cost goods to retail chains so that they can pass on these savings to English customers. Sourcing from a number of European countries, the food delivery company manages its staff spread over 5 sites, including remote employees located in Poland and Ukraine. To save supermarkets' customer money, the company keeps the strategy on lowering the costs of its produce shipping, the remote HR account being a vital item in the balance sheet.

CONCERN

The remote staff ensures the produce logistics during varied day- and night-shifts. The food procurement and logistics company dealing with fruit and vegetables, the freshness of the produce is tightly linked with the productivity of the remote employees. The need to maintain a low-cost HR supervision and simultaneously monitor the remote employees efficiently, - has been the biggest concern of the business management.

THE USE

In 3 easy steps, that are: create account-install the monitoring agent-watch reports, the management started to monitor the food business' remote staff with WorkTime Cloud Free. No more attendance questions have arisen, as the software tracks Windows events (login/logout time and others), as well as the productivity has been increased by monitoring visited URLs and software used and ensuring the staff is business-oriented during its shifts. Now the company plans to apply WorkTime Cloud with its 70+ reports accessible from the web for the rest of the company.

“WorkTime Cloud Free has assisted us to supervise the working discipline of our remote staff, 15 employees in general. The monitoring consumes neither any additional costs, nor there is a requirement to be an IT pro to use the monitoring reports! We've suggested the business owner to apply the monitoring software to the rest of the company to continue its stable productivity growth.” – The managerial team of food procurement and logistics business shares its WorkTime Cloud Free employee monitoring experience.
